The striking blue-violet flowers and variegated foliage are sure to grab your attention. I plan to clear some space in my shade garden for this beauty. The neat mounds of finely divided, green foliage are edged in cream and have charming, bell-shaped flowers in May-June. Sometimes mistaken for a fern because of the delicate foliage, this plant is ideal for naturalizing in the semi-shady perennial border, open woodland garden, rock garden, or along streams and ponds. This perennial makes a dainty cut flower. Grow in rich, moist soil in part sun to part shade. Feed with a liquid or slow release fertilizer. This plant is hardy in zone 4.
