I often see this upright evergreen creating a handsome framework for doorways or garden entries. Arborvitae have a narrow, conical form with rich, green foliage that is softly textured and arranged in flat sprays. The neat, formal appearance of this densely branched evergreen shrub makes an effective landscape accent, windbreak, or screen. Holmstrup even retains its attractive green color throughout winter. Apply a 2-3" layer of mulch or organic material to conserve moisture and improve the soil. This slow grower thrives in full sun in moist, well-drained soil, but will tolerate light shade. Hardy in Zones 3-8.
