I am always impressed with this remarkable, easy growing shrub that provides season long color. Diabolo® is an award winning shrub selected for its intense reddish-purple foliage on upright, arching branches. Excellent color contrast is provided by the dark foliage and clusters of creamy, pinkish-white flowers in summer. Also combine with yellow or bright green plants for good contrast. Plant this moderate grower in full sun for the best dark purple color, but will tolerate part shade. In late fall drooping clusters of red berries appear. It is hardy in the shrub border, or as a hedge or screen. Apply a 2-3" layer of mulch or organic material to conserve moisture and improve the soil. Prized as an excellent cut flower. Adapts to most any soil type. Hardy in Zones 2-7.
