I love to mix the low, tufted clumps of this icy-blue ornamental grass with the other perennials in my garden to create a colorful contrast. The soft, finely-textured blades of Elijah Blue even maintain their attractive foliage color throughout the season. In summer, buff colored flowers rise above the blue foliage on mature plants, creating an even more eye-catching contrast. These fast growing, dense mounds are excellent for planting in containers, along the edges of borders or water gardens, in rock gardens, or as an evergreen groundcover. They provide color and texture in the garden when planted in large masses. Grow in well-drained soil in full sun. Hardy in Zones 4-8.
